HOW IT'S WORKS

The Women's Safety Daily Entry System ensures secure safety status management for hostel residents.

Users input their password and destination when leaving, updating their status to "Outside the Hostel." Upon return, a simple password re-entry and location confirmation update the status to "Inside the Hostel."

This two-step process prioritizes accuracy and security, enhancing real-time updates and user safety. The system's intuitive design allows residents to focus on daily activities, confident that their safety status is accurately reflected.

ABOUT PROJECT

The Women's Safety Daily Entry System is a Java Spring-based project designed to enhance safety and security for women when they go outside. The system allows users to log daily entries, providing a record of their movements.

This project aims to contribute to women's safety by maintaining a comprehensive record of their whereabouts.
